

Job Title: Fundraising Intern

Location: Remote work flexibility available

About Us:

The Africa Center for Health Systems and Gender Justice is a Pan-African social impact startup that merges social entrepreneurship with a commitment to advancing health equity and addressing social inequalities. Through innovative strategies, the Center challenges and transforms policies, practices, and investment patterns to promote gender justice within health systems. Health and gender equity in health systems, as we see it, ensures that everyone has a fair and just opportunity to attain their full health potential, without being disadvantaged or excluded due to systemic barriers.

We work in collaboration with community-based organisations, advocates, and coalitions to strengthen capacity and empower communities to reshape the systems that have created these inequities. Our partnerships include public health practitioners and grassroots organisations, focusing on amplifying the voices and experiences of historically marginalised and underrepresented groups. Through these collaborations, we develop tools, frameworks, and strategies that promote effective prevention, gender justice, and health equity. Our team, drawing from both personal and professional expertise, plays a vital role in creating gender transformative equity-driven solutions that enhance community health, safety, and overall well-being.

Job Summary:

We are looking for a motivated and passionate Fundraising Intern to join our team and contribute to our fundraising efforts to drive impactful programs in women's health and gender equality. This role offers a unique opportunity to gain hands-on experience in fundraising, donor engagement, and grant development within the global health sector.

Key Responsibilities:

1. Donor Research and Engagement
 - Research potential funding sources, including foundations, corporations, and individual donors, with a focus on supporting gender justice and health equity.
 - Assist in building donor profiles and maintaining an organised donor database.
2. Fundraising Materials and Proposal Development
 - Collaborate in creating compelling grant proposals, pitch decks, and other fundraising materials.
 - Support the preparation of communication materials for donor meetings and presentations.
3. Social Media and Campaign Support

 - Contribute ideas and assist with digital campaigns to expand the reach of our fundraising efforts.
4. Project Support
- Assist in developing and implementing fundraising strategies tailored to support our mission and objectives.
 - Support cross-departmental fundraising initiatives to enhance organisational growth.

Requirements:

- Enrolled in a degree program in Nonprofit Management, Business Administration, Global Health, International Relations, or a related field.
- Strong research and analytical skills, with attention to detail.
- Previous experience in fundraising, business development, or volunteer positions is an advantage.
- Excellent communication and interpersonal skills.
- A self-starter who can work both independently and collaboratively.
- Fluent in English.

We Offer:

- An opportunity to work with a passionate and supportive team committed to making a difference in gender justice and health equity.
- A high learning curve with guidance from a dedicated internship mentor.
- Flexible work arrangements to accommodate academic commitments.
- Regular feedback sessions to support your personal and professional growth.
- Networking opportunities with leaders in global health, social enterprises, and other impactful organisations.

Duration and Compensation:

This is a paid internship, $200 per month with flexible hours. Start date and duration will be determined based on mutual agreement.

Application Process:

Interested candidates are invited to submit their resume and a cover letter detailing their interest and relevant experience.
